CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

XXVIIITH SESSION-SECOND DAY.

SENATE.

SACRAMENTO, January 8, 1889.
Senate met at 11 A. M., President protem. Stephen M. White in the chair.
Roll called, and all the members present except Senator Banks, on leave of absence, and Senator Spellacy. Secator Spellacy.

In the absence of the Rev. H. C. Christian, Chaplain, the Rev. A. C. Bane offered the following

PRAYER: Oh God, our Heavenly Father, Thou art manifest in the government of men. There is no man, nor organization of men, that can prosper without Thee; therefore, at the opening of this senate, and before resuming the business of its organization, we invoke Thy presence and Thy benediction upon us. May all things be done in wisdom, be concluded in peace, with an eye single to Thy glory and the good of this commonwealth, and Thy name shall have the praise forever. Amen.

Mr. Langford—Mr. President, I move that we now proceed to elect a permanent President of the Senate.

Mr. Moffitt—I move to amend the motion by making it read that we do now proceed to elect a permanent President pro tem. of the Senate.

Mr. Langford accepted the amendment, and the motion as amended prevailed.

[Senator Caminetti in the chair.]

Mr. Goucher—Mr. President. it affor's me pleasure to present to this Senate for the position of President pro tem. of this body the name of a distinguished citizen, a distinguished native and a distinguished statesman of this State. The younger men of all parties in this State will take pride in the ability of the gentleman I am about to name. He has gained distinction in a professional life; he has gained honor and eminence in political life. In these halls he has been looked upon by the people of this State, as well as by his colleagues, as a coming statesman of the Pacific coast. I refer to the Hon. Stephen M. White of Los Angeles. He is a man who has occupied that position, and in its occupancy as President pro tem. at the last session of this Senate was regarded with the most kindly feelings, not only by those of his own political faith, but I think I may safely say by every Republican upon the floor: a man entirely uninfluenced by partisan narrowness, but broad and liberal; one who will deal with the minority here with the same fairness as he would deal with his political friends. I place in nomination for President pro tem. of the Senate the name of Hon. Stephen M. White.

Mr. DeLong—Mr. President, I rise to place in nomination the name of the Hon. J. N. E. Wilson of San Francisco.

Mr. Yell—Mr. President, I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of the Hon. Stephen M. White, of Los Angeles. In doing son of San Francisco.

Mr. Yell—Mr. President, I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of the Hon. Stephen M. White, of Los Angeles. In doing so, I feel that I am but reflecting the sentiment of a majority of the distinguished gentlemen who compose the Democratic side of this house. Mr. White, in my opinion, needs no eulogy at the hands of any man. His reputation, his merit, and his eminent qualifications are but household stories in this his native State. Not only has he won, by a life of rectitude and uprightness, many distinctions of the people of this State, but his fame has crossed the rockribbed sides of the Sierras and found an echo in the hearts of the people of the great East—the beloved son of a young and vigorous State—and it seems to me, my fellow Senators, that we would but do honor to the State we represent if we place this position upon this distinguished gentleman as a reward that true merit richly deserves. For these reasons, Mr. President, I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of the Hon. Stephen M. White.

Nominations were declared closed, and the roll was called, with the following result:

For Stephen M. White—Boggs, Briceland, Britt, Caminetti, Dixon, Goucher, Hamill, Hinshaw, Jones, Langford, McDonald, Meade, Meany, Moffit, Murphy, Pinder, Koth, Welch, Williams, Wilson and Yell—21.

For J. N. E. Wilson—Bowers, Byrnes, Campbell, Conklin, Crandall, Dargie, De Long, Dray, Flint, Frazer, Greely, Heacock, McComas, McGowan, Preston, Sprague and white—17.

Mr. White was declared elected President protem and upon assuming the chair said:

your esteem, but it will only be necessary to say at this time that in the discharge of the duties of this office I shall try to act in accordance with to a close, that my administration of this office will meet the approval, not only of my political associates, but of those who are opposed to me. Certainly if it does not it will be no fault of mine so far as my wishes are concerned. The Chair awaits the pleasure of the Senate. THE SECRETARY.

Mr. Roth-I move that we do now proceed to he election of a Secretary of the Senate. Car Mr. Moffatt-Having been accorded the hono have found a competent gentleman from Santa Cruz. His one vice is that of being a country editor, while his chief virtue is that of being a necticut Democrat. [Laughter.] I nomi

Connecticut Democrat. [Laughter.] I nominate George W. Peckham.

Mr. Dargie—I desire to present the name of James A. Örr, for Secretary of the Senate. He has filled the office before, and if you elect him to day you will have a faithful servant.

Mr. Boggs—I take pleasure in seconding the nomination of Mr. Peckham. He has made a very active canvass for the position and certainly defeated one who would have made a good Secretary. I was opposed to him for the nomination, but I am satisfied the Senate will be well pleased with his administration; that he will make a good and efficient Secretary, and therefore, it is with pleasure that I second his nomination. The roll was called, and George W. Peckham was declared elected by a vote of 21 to 17—a strict party vote.

CHAPLAIN. Mr. Jones-I desired to offer the following hereby appointed Chaplain of the Senate, and het the compensation of said position be fixed it 86 per diem, to be paid out of the contingent Mr. Dray-I move to amend the resolution by nserting the name of the Rev. A. T. Needham p place of the Rev. A. C. Bane.

The roll was called, and the amendment was ost by a vote of 17 ayes to 21 noes.

The roll was then called on the original resoution offered by Mr. Jones, and it was adopted by a vote of 33 ayes to 4 noes.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS.

Mr. Meany—I move that we proceed to the election of Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. Carried. Murphy-Mr. President, it affords me every relation of life he has sustained the part of an honorable man, and he possesses quali-ties, executive and administrative, which em-inently qualify him for the position for which we have named him.

Mr Britt—After the eloquent remarks made

Mr Britt—After the eloquent remarks made by my colleague from san Francisco there remains but very little for me to say, but I would be derelict in my duty to a gentleman coming from my country if I would not add a few words to show that the gentleman is eminently qualified for this particular position. There is no position within the gift of this body where the gentleman occupying the same is thrown so much in contact with the different members of the Senate, and I know, from the experience that I have had with Mr. Faylor, that he will fill the position in such a manner as to leave a fill the position in such a manner as to leave a lasting impression on every gentleman who has the honor to sit upon this floor. For these reasons, Mr. President, I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of George W. Faylor of San Francisco.

GENERAL JACKSON REMEMBERED. Mr. Mead offered the following resolution, hich was adopted unanimously:

of the session to allude to the work that claims our honest consideration. One of the most important matters to the people of the State is a revision of our election and registration laws. The late election has furnished us evidences of fraud and attempted fraud in the registration of voters and in the returns of the election. The elective franchise is the corner-stone, the very foundation of our system of government, and if citizens cannot be protected in this sacred right, then the ballot is a farce and our Government a failure.

then the ballot is a farce and our Government a failure.

The people demand of us an amendment of the present system, and I commend this matter to your early consideration. If we should do no more than to find a preventive of fraud in the registration, counting and making returns of votes, we will deserve the commendation of the people. And now, in conclusion, for the distinction with which you have honored me, and believing that I shall have your co-operation and assistance, permit me to again return my grateful thanks. THE SUGAR TARIFF. Claus Spreckels Has Some Facts and Figures for Congress.

Washington, January 8th.—Claus Spreckels arrived here to-night. He will appear before the Senate Finance Committee some day this week and submit to its members a statement of beet sugar operations in California during the past year, accompanied by an itemized statement of his operations, receipts and profits. He will endeavor to demonstrate not only that this country can, in time, produce all the sugar required for home consumption, but if the policy of Germany, France and Austria is adopted a large export trade will follow.

Spreckels is opposed to a reduction of the present duty on sugar while this industry of the West is in its infancy. What he desires is the adoption of some policy respecting sugar that shall be permanent for a period of years. If the duty is to be reduced and an equivalent bounty fixed for a term of years. If the sugar dutyonly is to be repealed, he wants to know that, so that he may shut down his works.

Senator Stanford will soon be given a hearing before the Finance Committee, when he will advocate the repeal of the tax on grape brandy and protection for fairly and pro advocate the repeal of the tax on grape brandy and protection for fruits.

I hope and believe that I will receive the cooperation of each and every member of this Assembly, to the end that we may facilitate business, and that our session may be short and profitable to the State. If I should at any time fall short of your expectations, I have only to ask at your hands that leniency and indulgence always accorded to those so situated.

His Oklahoma Bill. Washington, January Sth.—Springer, Chairman of the Committee on Territories, who has charge of the Oklahoma bill, said to your representative: "Until a day is set for a vote upon this bill I shall antagonize every measure in the House, including all appropriation bills, and do all in my power to prevent their consideration. This bill has been on the calendar since last February, and it must be taken up at this session."

Sherman introduced a bill to make and alter the regulations as to the time, places and manner of holding elections for Representatives in Congress. Referred to the Committee on Privileyes and Elections.

Hoar offered a resolution (agreed to) calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for a report of Special Treasury Officer Byrne, made in November, 1887, in regard to the evasion of sugar duties in New York.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the tariff bill. Some amendments were offered to the cotton schedule by Democrats and rejected by a party vote.

San Francisco Public Building.

Washington, January 8th.—Representative Dibble, Chairman of the Conference Committee on the San Francisco public building bill, returned to the city to-day. He will probably not have an opportunity, however, to present the conference report for several days.

Morrow said to night that there is every prospect of a long siege of deadlock in the House, and he could not say when an opportunity would occur to present the report.

ROYALTY IN DANGER. Bold Attempt to Blow Up the Royal Palace at Madrid. MADRID, January 8th .- An attempt to blow up the Royal Palace was made here to-day. No one was injured, and the only damage done was the smashing of many windows. The petard with which the attempt was made was exploded on the staircase of the pal-royal household being almost panic-stricken. Prime Minister Sagasta, as soon as he heard of the attempted outrage, hurried from Congress to the palace, where he was at once admitted to an audience with the Queen. THE ALARM WIDESPREAD.

MADRID, January 8th .- The explosion in the Royal Palace to-day has caused widespread alarm. The previously-exploded petards were carelessly and almost harmlessly constructed. The Governor of Madrid received an anony mous letter on Sunday saying the outrages would be continued. SUPPOSED AUTHORS OF THE OUTRAGES

Hippolyte's Army Steadily Advancing and the End Near at Hand. PORT-AU-PRINCE, December 30th.—As this dispatch is being written, the deposition of Legitime by the dissatisfied citizens of the Capital time by the dissatisfied citizens of the Capital or by the advancing victorious troops of the North-under Hypfolite appears to be shortly expected by all but the immediate supporters of Legitime. He has thrown into prison all the prominent citizens and residents of the North in Port-au-Prince suspected of opposing him. Three battles have been fought and lost by the Legitimists in the last ten days.

During their rapid retreat on the Capital two divisions of the army deserted to the pursuing Northerns. A stand was made the next day at a rising knoll of ground by the dispirited army t rising knoll of ground by the dispirited army of the South, but they were unable to maintain

Reports of defeat and desertions have raised to a high pitch of excitement the inhabitants of this section, and hence Legitime is imprisoning all possible ringleaders in the revolt against him. He is showing great activity in securing "volunteers" through press-gangs, who seize laborers in the fields and bringing them to the barracks, frequently in chains, to prevent their escaping. GERMAN AFFAIRS The Berlin Press Discusses the Morier Matter and the Samoa Disaster. BERLIN, January 8th .- The result of Lord Salis bury's remonstrances in connection with the Morier affair, will protably appear shortly. The Government organs evince an uneasy desire to disentangle themselves from the affair.

The Reichsanzieger to night publishes a letter tending to prove the truth of Morier's assertion that he sent no news about the Germans crossing the Moselle, because he had none to send. While the Liberal newspapers are rejoicing over what they call a Bismarckian blunder, they do not fail to censure Morier for his waat of decorum in sending a heated letter directly to Count Herbert Bismarck, instead of communicating in the usual manner, through Sir Edward Mallet, the British Embassador. The charge of forgery has collapsed utterly.

Viniculturists Discuss Matters Affecting the Grape Industry. SAN FRANISCO, January 8th.—A meeting of the rape-Growers' and Wine-Makers' Association was held this morning at 130 Post street. H. W. Mr. DeTurk advocated the organization of

Mr. DeTurk advocated the establishment of a central co operating distillery for the purpose of tral co operating distillery for the purpose of manufacturing brandy from the excess of wine. Our brandy is not uniform, which is very detri-mental to this branch of the industry. The establishment of large storage ware-houses near New York for wines and brandies was suggested by Mr. De Turk. It was stated that there was an objection t Mr. De Turk's plan for a central distillery, as the freight would be considerable, and the

There is, as is well known, a warm conthe institution. For it is not expected ized. That county has the Normal School and the Agnew Asylum. It will properly enough ask for their adequate support, but the fear is strongly manifest in the sentiment of that county that the demands of junior will be at the expense of the two senior institutions. It is in itself a co-gent reason why a number of public institutions should not be located in one county, since they are liable to be put in antago nism to each other. Hence it is not at all likely that self-interest will permit Santa Clara sentiment to do justice to the feebler, most needy and youngest of the three institutions within its bounds, and the latter should therefore be located elsewhere, and so endowed by the State as to insure the accomplishment of the high purposes of which it was born. The subject is second in importance to no other of similar character that will come before the Legislature and must not be put aside by any excuses. Convinced of the urgency of the question, the justice of its claims and the unquestionable mistake the State has already made, we shall take up the matter again and in that detail that is essential to its clear comprehension. We have faith in the fine sense of justice of Californians, and the imperative obligations of duty, and that the Legislature will divest the subject of localism, and deal with it free from any other influences than those that look to the best interest of the State and its needs.

This was relaxation of the Monroe doctrine which we speedily

The Colombian Government granted a charter to the "International Society of the Inter-Oceanic Canal" for construction of what is now known as the Panama Canal, but it secured its neutrality in case of war between other nations, and denied the right of the grantees, or their assigns, to cede any rights gained to any foreign nation or Government. In 1865 General Grant sent General Sheridan with a full army corps to the Mexican border to watch the movements of the French in Mexico. The result was that the French menace was withdrawn and Maximilian left to his fate. In 1870 General Grant vigorously urged the annexation of Santo Domingo, then offering to come to us freely, because it would be action in har-mony with the Monroe doctrine, and an emphatic notice to European powers that no acquisition of territory on this side by them would be permitted. In 1880 President Hayes reasserted the Monroe Doctrine in the consideration of question of an inter-oceanic canal. The same year Congress discussed the doctrine at great length, and though adjourning without action, received and considered the report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, which was emphatic against any scheme or policy to give any Euro-pean power the right to interfere with the concerns or destiny of any independent States of this continent. It was in this year, also, that a protocol to the treaty of 1846, heretofore referred to, was proposed, giving to the United States in case be threatened, the right to take possession of it. The Colombian Government refused In 1881 Secretary of State Blaine sent part in the completion of the canal, it has which created such a stir in international grossly ignorant of the state of the work eight part in the completion of the canal, it has peculiar emphasis. The surprising thing about it is that three Southern Democrats should have voted against it, in the face of the traditions of the Democratic party and the famous declaration of Thomas Jefferson.

The reassertion ought to command such attention from the youth of the land as to awaken their interest in the history of the doctrine and stimulate them to study one of the continued interference in European against it in international circles, that the activity they were then manifesting jointly in guaranteeing the neutrality of the Panama Canal was uncalled for, as the United States Government had provided for such neutrality by the treaty of 1846 with New Granada, and felt able and proposed to maintain it alone. He added that any involvment in the matter by European Governments would be regarded as an intrusion, since the policy of the United States was to refrain from interference in European affairs, and to peculiar emphasis. The surprising thing which created such a still in interest the circles, that the activity they were then

A still stronger reason for permanent a sufficient aid to meet the scope and requi nents of this work is shown by the fact that of ments of this work is shown by the fact that our wards are innocent of crime or fault; they are the feeble and deformed expressions of parental sins or sorrows, and in many instances the reflection of woes which the State has directly or indirectly caused. From the woe of intemperance, innocent children are doomed to an existence of helpless imbecility. There is no field in political economy which can be worked to better advantage for the decrease of crime, pauperism and insanity than that of imbecility.

OUR PREDECESSORS IN THIS WORK

Testify to the importance of industrial training as the chief formation of mind and morals, and the great need of acreage sufficient to develop a capacity for agricultural labor which materially diminishes the cost of support. Ohio, with its 1.000 acres, asserts that the amount of land necessary is at the ratiy of one acre per pupil; and abundance of pure water a desideratum, at least fifty gallons per inmate per diem; the buildings fire-proof, with most modern and best approved methods of ventilation, heating, sewerage and drainage; location on high ground, accessible to a city or 1-rge town and yet sufficiently isolated. Our present property is within the town limits of Santa Clara and consists of but fifty acres, and too low for obtaining proper drainage. The water supply is also insufficient, and our buildings are all of wood and can be considered only as temporary structures. The present Home is overcrowded with 108 inmates. We have 200 awaiting admission. The State has expended outside of the original purchase ($15,00) but $30,00.—one-third fully of that amount has been spent on the remainder in such improvements. OUR PREDECESSORS IN THIS WORK third fully of that amount has been spent of the sewerage and water problems—part of the remainder in such improvements that can be moved to a new location. The rest has been expended with a view to improve the grounds thereby making them more eligible to sell. The present system of cesspools has been considered the best possible for this tract. Unless cess pools be multiplied indefinitely, new building cannot be satisfactorily sewered. The fall is present sewers in certain places is so slight a to render frequent stoppages with attendant leaking or escapes of gases.

WITH BUILDINGS SUITABLE For the number of children and s aff necessary to meet present demands, to say nothing of the future, the cespool system crowded upon living quarter would be not only a disgrace to an advanced and wealthy State, but absolutely criminal from a hygienic standpoint. The disposition of sewerage is but one of the many reasons to be advanced in favor of a new site. The work needs more isolation that at present is possible. Parents and relations justly object to their child en being objects of public criticism and ridicule while at play or exercise. More land is needed to afford pasturage and range for stock; the pr ducing of milk being of the first importance, this article being the almost total diet of fully nine-tenths of the children of the lower grade, while to all it is an indispensible adjunct of food supply. It has been a serted that the farms belonging to Eastern institutious are merely so many extravagancies, where money is lost to the respective States yearly. or the number of children and s aff necessa

James Monroe, the fifth President, from his earliest political career was an ardent American. Up to his time no statesman had given more attention to the foreign relations of the United States, and none better understood them. Because of his profundity in this respect he was, through all the political contest that antagonized in the first process of the conditions and the political contest that antagonized in the first process of the conditions and the process of the conditions under which denote the process of the conditions under which the Bulwer-Clayton treaty of 1850, by which we distinctly waived the Monroe doctrine. To this, reflected through diplomatic correspondence, Mr. Blaine replied that the conditions under which the Bulwer-Clayton treaty had been negotiated and concluded were exceptional, peculiar and temporary, had long since it upon the best foundation possible, are tho who know by personal experience—see the practical side of the question—who have visite sindred institutions, and know their advantage

A LIBERAL EXPENDITURE. "If the State assumes this duty, it may exercise the right to lessen the drain on its rescurces, when it can be proven that more than half the bulk of all this misery and its cost are avertible. Public opinion is shaping a occision that most of the ills of life are not accidental and familistic, but attributable to removable causes, our insultations of charity, reformatories and prisons will furnish testimony that cannot be gainsaid, and prove a valuable and to the arguments for such leg sixtion and education as will correct or abate all tendencies, habits and practices that can be reached by those means."

Mandan (Dak.), January 8th.—On a farm ten miles west of Mandan lives Charles Casperdone with his family, consisting of a wife and two little boys. On Saturday Mr. Casperdone came to Mandan to sell some stock and remained here visiting friends. Sunday at midnight the Casperdone hen roost was visited by wildcats.

When the wife heard the noise she got out of bed, grasped an ax, and sallied forth in scant attire. Rushing in at the door of the hennery, she encountered a wildcat, which sprang at her, catching one of its claws in her left arm, and larcerating it terribly. Pushing the animal away she struck it a blow which rendered it unconscious. Another of the cats sprang at her, seizing the calf of her right leg and cutting it severely with its teeth. The poor woman aimed a blow at the beast, which missed it, but the animal became frightened and ran to the woods. The other cat, which had been crouching it a corner, then sprang upon the plucky housewife, getting its teeth in her clothing and tearing them almost from her body. She succeeded in pushing the infuriated animal from her, and as it sprang at her throat the second time, she ealt it a blow over the right ear which ended
